

November 2018

To our stakeholders:

I am pleased to confirm that KGH Customs Services AB reaffirms its' support to the Ten Principles of the United Nations Global Compact in the areas of Human Rights, Labor, Environment and Anti-Corruption.

Facilitating trade for sustainable growth is KGH's mission. It is our legacy and is our driving force forward. Through our knowledge, solutions, and the efforts of our employees, KGH creates value for our stakeholders.

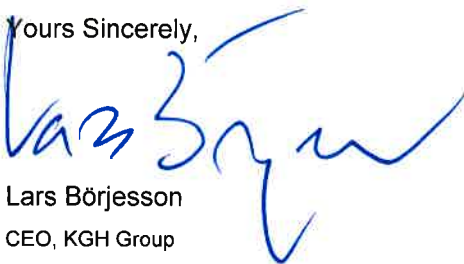

However, the view of value creation is changing. Economic growth based on increased international trade is a prerequisite for many of the UN's 17 Sustainable Development Goals. At the same time, it is also necessary to consider social and environmental development for long-term value creation. That is what corporate sustainability is about – an exciting opportunity and responsibility that can make us more attractive as a company, partner and employer.

To summarize what we already do, and to set a clear direction forward, we have formulated the KGH Sustainability Programme. The programme expresses our focus areas, the sustainability goals we want to contribute to, and how we achieve those.

Individual commitment is key in realizing KGH's Sustainability Programme. And as individuals we take responsibility for our own actions and in contributing to the overall agenda. As a company, we drive initiatives that create value for our stakeholders and improve our operations. By cooperating with other stakeholders in the value chain, we strive to develop innovative and efficient solutions that further contribute to the goals. We engage in the societies we are part of through our own activities and by supporting other external initiatives.

Practical actions taken in the last year are summarized in our Communication on Progress and initiatives in the areas of Environment and Labor are communicated through our Annual Report. We also commit to share this information with our stakeholders using our primary channels of communication.

Yours Sincerely,
