

Global Compact Communication on Progress and GRI Content Index referencing the Datwyler Annual Report 2010

Message from the CEO

Long-term values

More than 90 years of innovation for the benefit of our customers, employees, shareholders and the community – that is the hallmark of the Datwyler Group. Over this period, Datwyler has evolved from a family-owned Swiss company into an international group. Building on our strong roots, we have developed our own style with high standards. Customer responsiveness, innovation capability and commitment are core values that guide the way we run our business over the long term. We strive to deliver sustainable profitable growth for the benefit of our stakeholders as the foundation for adding long-term value and preserving the corporate independence of the Datwyler Group.

In our efforts, we are addressing the challenges of our times. We adopted the voluntary standards of the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) for the sustainability section of our 2008 Annual Report, and on 9 November 2009 we joined the UN Global Compact. This is an initiative launched by the United Nations which espouses ten principles in the areas of human rights, labour, the environment and combating corruption. As a UN Global Compact participant, Datwyler undertakes to follow the ten principles and to accept its responsibility within society. In the 2010 reporting year the first progress report on the ten UN Global Compact principles was published. This endeavour is based on the Datwyler Code of Conduct that lays down globally binding rules for all Datwyler Group employees. The systematic surveys of customers and employees were continued and refined in 2010. In this way we live up to our social responsibility every day as a reliable partner to our stakeholders.

Dr. Paul J. Haelg, CEO

Integration of the Global Compact Communication on Progress in the sustainability reporting according to the Global Reporting Initiative

Human Rights
Principle 1: Businesses should support and respect the protection of internationally proclaimed human rights.	The Daetwyler Group's Code of Conduct clearly stipulates that the companies and employees in the Group respect the human rights, dignity, privacy and personal rights of every individual. Daetwyler does not tolerate any form of discrimination, humiliation, oppression, harassment or offence. In the reporting year 2010, the Compliance Officer (currently the CFO) received no complaints of alleged discrimination in Daetwyler companies. In its Code of Conduct, the Daetwyler Group commits to ensuring a safe and healthy working environment. Principle 2: Businesses should make sure that they are not complicit in human rights abuses.	The Daetwyler Group gives its suppliers fair contractual terms and reasonable valuable consideration. In return, Daetwyler also expects the suppliers to treat their employees and suppliers fairly and honestly.	Page 31: Fair employment conditions Page 32: Fair and responsible partner	Page 12: HR4
Labour
Principle 3: Businesses should uphold the freedom of association and the effective recognition of the right to collective bargaining.	The Daetwyler Group's Code of Conduct explicitly states that employees are free to join trade unions. The Daetwyler companies maintain a constructive dialogue with internal employee representatives. Employees of the Cables and Rubber Divisions in Switzerland are subject to the Collective Bargaining Agreement of the Swiss mechanical and electrical engineering industries.	Page 31: Fair employment conditions
Principle 4: Businesses should uphold the elimination of all forms of forced and compulsory labour.	In its Code of Conduct, the Daetwyler Group commits to protect human rights. It categorically rejects the use of forced and compulsory labour. The systematic sustainability reporting shows that all companies in the Daetwyler Group comply with this. Principle 5: Businesses should uphold the effective abolition of child labour.	In its Code of Conduct, the Daetwyler Group commits to protect human rights. Environment
Principle 7: Business should support a precautionary approach to environmental challenges.	For the companies in the Daetwyler Group, environmental protection is an important mission and, as such, is embodied in the Group's Code of Conduct. This encompasses both environmentally friendly production with efficient use of resources and the development of products that are made of the most environmentally sound components possible. The Daetwyler Group used 2010 to further extend its sustainability reporting. For the first time, reporting covers 40 production and sales sites, with a total of 4,708 full-time equivalents averaged over the year. These now all report their key environmental data in the same format and using comparable measuring methods. In 2010, the Group spent around CHF 1.5 million on environmental activities.	Page 30: Focus on the environment and Environmental initiatives and expanding reporting	Page 9: EN18 Page 10: EN30
Principle 8: Business should undertake initiatives to promote greater environmental responsibility.	At the end of 2010, 15 Daetwyler companies were certified to ISO 14001. Other companies are working towards ISO environmental certification. The Cables and Rubber Divisions and their Swiss affiliates have been members of the Swiss Private Sector Energy Agency since 2003 and 2002 respectively. Acting on behalf of the Federal Office for the Environment, the agency acknowledged fulfilment of the agreed voluntary reduction in CO₂ emissions in 2010. A wood-fired electricity generating plant has been in operation at the Sealing Technology Division's Swiss site since October 2008 to supply process and heat energy. The use of renewable energy sources enables Datwyler to save around 500,000 litres of heating oil annually and to reduce CO₂ emissions by some 1,300 tonnes.	Page 28: Regulatory information requirements as minimum standards Page 30: Environmental performance at a glance Page 29: Summary of environmental data by division	Page 8: EN3, EN4, EN6, EN8 Page 9: EN16, EN18, EN22 Page 10: EN23, EN28, EN30 Page 13: PR3
Principle 9: Business should encourage the development and diffusion of Environmentally friendly technologies.	Environmental protection at Daetwyler encompasses both environmentally friendly production with efficient use of resources and the development of products that are made of the most environmentally sound components possible and, in many cases, directly help to protect the environment. One example is the new rubber gaskets for environmentally friendly natural gas engines or for technologies to reduce nitrogen-oxide emissions from diesel-powered vehicles in the automotive industry.	Page 30: Focus on the environment	Page 8: EN6 Page 9: EN18
Anti-Corruption
Principle 10: Businesses should work against corruption in all its forms, including extortion and bribery.	The Daetwyler Group's Code of Conduct strictly prohibits collusion, bribery and corruption. The Code of Conduct is reiterated to employees constantly during internal training sessions. Once again, no legal actions for anti-competitive behaviour, anti-trust or monopoly practices were brought against Daetwyler during 2009. Nor were any significant fines or non-monetary sanctions imposed on Daetwyler for non-compliance with laws and regulations during the reporting year. The internal auditors regularly monitor compliance with laws and observation of the Code of Conduct in all organisational units of the Daetwyler Group. In accordance with the Code of Conduct, the Daetwyler Group does not provide financial support to political parties, organisations or office holders.	Page 32: Fair and responsible partner and Social responsibility	Page 12: SO3, SO4 Page 13: SO6

GRI Content Index Referencing the Datwyler Annual Report 2010 Integration of sustainability information following the Global Reporting Initiative Guidelines

This year's Annual Report 2010 published by Datwyler Holding Inc. follows the Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) G3 Guidelines for the third time. Together with the information compiled in this detailed GRI Content Index, the Annual Report meets the requirements for Application Level C, as checked and confirmed by GRI.

GRI is the world's leading standard for corporate sustainability reporting (www.globalreporting.org). The GRI Guidelines require disclosures that set the overall context for understanding an organisation's sustainability performance. Furthermore, they cover disclosures on management approach and numerous performance indicators relating to Economic (EC), Environmental (EN), Product Responsibility (PR), Labour Practices (LA), Human Rights (HR) and Society (SO) issues. By adopting these Guidelines, Datwyler is seeking to provide its stakeholders with comprehensive and transparent information on the company's sustainability focus.

The GRI Content Index below shows where to locate specific information in the Annual Report. GRI requires a number of organisational profile disclosures (see sections 1 to 4 of the table). Core GRI performance indicators are shown in black type, while additional indicators that GRI has identified as possibly being relevant to an organisation's reporting are shown in grey type. Aspects and indicators discussed in the report are highlighted in a green box giving references to the relevant sections and page numbers of the report.

Appendix: summary of the Global Reporting Initiative framework

The G3 version of the GRI Guidelines has been in effect since October 2006. To allow companies to expand their sustainability reporting over time, an Application Levels system was launched, as shown in the table below. Application Level C, which has been achieved by Datwyler and checked by GRI, already covers a large number of disclosure requirements. The highest level of coverage is A, for which all the required elements must be reported on.
