SUSTAINABILITY UPDATE 2012

Protect what's good

At Tetra Pak, everything we do is driven by the promise to protect what's good. That promise is at the heart of our sustainability commitment.

Throughout this site you will discover the myriad ways we shape our business, partner with others and interact with society to make a positive difference. From climate change to responsible use of natural resources to food security and nutrition, we are engaged with the issues that engage you. Have a look around and tell us what you think.
