

Communication on progress (Cop) – year 2013

IME is going to proudly confirm its adherence to the Global Compact also for this year. The project, set up by the United Nations and which the company have been actively participating since 4 years to, still maintains its identity and its high ethical profile.

The basic principles of the Global Compact have helped the company to increase and improve its attitude through a more complete view of the business during these years.

The business is, and should also might be considered, like an intellectual and moral tool. The business can be ethical. The business can be "green".

IME sta quindi proseguendo, pur non senza momenti di maggiore fervore ed altri di maggiore lentezza nell'implementazione sempre più radicata di strumenti di esecuzione ed altri di controllo delle performances in adesione a quanto statuito nel decalogo.

IME is therefore continuing, the implementation of enforced tools in order to achieve the tasks and to check the performances in adherence to what was set in the Decalogue.

I am sure that the budget of this experience has been and always will be a major success and it is for this reason that the IME is proud to be a member of the Global Compact.
