We continue to uphold the principles outlined in the compact in all of our operations and in full compliance with all Australian statutory requirements.

Marcus Hogg – Managing Director

Martogg Group and the ten principles of the United Nations Global Compact.

Martogg Group works with and relates to the ten principles of the United Nations Global compact in the following ways.

Principle 1 and 2 – Human Rights

Principle 1: Businesses should support and respect the protection of internationally proclaimed human rights; and

Principle 2: make sure that they are not complicit in human rights abuses.

- Martogg Group supports the Global Compact principles on human rights.
- Martogg Group policies ensure that all of our operations are carried out in accordance with the relevant Australian legislative framework and the tenets of the Declaration of Human Rights.

Principle 3, 4, 5 and 6 – Labour

- Martogg Group supports the Global Compact principles on labour standards and adheres to all Australian labour and anti-discrimination laws in this regard. Martogg Group policies neither permit nor condone unethical and discriminatory behaviours and practises.
- In addition Martogg Group is committed to providing its employees with a safe working environment and embarked on implementing an Occupational Health and Safety Management System that will meet the requirements of AS/NZS 4801.2001 in 2013 due for completion in 2014.

Principle 3: Businesses should uphold the freedom of association and the effective recognition of the right to collective bargaining;

- All Martogg Group employees are free to join the union of their choice for inter alia the purposes of collective bargaining. We keep no record of union membership as we regard this to be a matter for the individual employee solely.

Principle 4: the elimination of all forms of forced and compulsory labour;

- No Martogg Group employee has been or will be coerced or compelled to work for the company. All Martogg Group employees join the company by choice and may leave their employment of their own volition subject to any contractual or industry award terms of employment which are governed by Australian Industrial law.

Principle 5: the effective abolition of child labour; and

- Martogg Group's policies permit no children to be employed in any of our operations.

Principle 6: the elimination of discrimination in respect of employment and occupation.

- Martogg Group is an equal opportunity employer. Martogg's workforce is currently made up of employees of 20 different nationalities which reflect the diverse nature of contemporary Australian society.

We do not discriminate in respect to employment opportunities within our organisation.

Principle 7, 8 and 9 – Environment

Principle 7: Businesses should support a precautionary approach to environmental challenges;

Principle 8: undertake initiatives to promote greater environmental responsibility; and

Principle 9: encourage the development and diffusion of environmentally friendly technologies.

- Martogg Group recognises the need for all businesses to reduce their environmental footprint and has invested substantially since 2006 to develop a commercially viable recycled polymers business to this end.
- Martogg Group has reduced its internal waste to landfill volumes through its investment in its recycling business
- Martogg Group actively promotes and markets recycled polymers as alternatives to virgin resin products where appropriate and fit for purpose.
- Martogg Group has continued to invest in environmentally friendly technologies and has expanded its recycling production capacity and capability. As a result of this investment, sales of polymer products made from recycled industrial plastic waste have continued to grow and now account for over 20% of the Group's sales volume in 2011.

- Martogg Group's sustained investment in recycled polymer capability and capacity has increased the proportion of Group's sales volume made from recycled industrial plastic waste feed stocks to 28% in 2012.
- Martogg group invested in additional recycled polymer capacity in 2013 and maintained the recycled polymer proportion of the Group's sales at 28%.

Principle 10 – Anti-corruption

Principle 10: Businesses should work against corruption in all its forms, including extortion and bribery

- Martogg Group supports the Global Compact principles on anti-corruption.
- The company operates entirely within the framework of Australian legislation in this regard and has zero tolerance of any form of corruption, extortion and bribery from its employees, suppliers/vendors, customers and other business partners.
- Martogg Group purchasing policy permits the disqualification and removal of approved suppliers and vendors for inappropriate business ethics including but not limited to extortion and bribery.

Update March 2014: Martogg Group continues to maintain zero tolerance of any form of corruption, extortion and bribery from its employees, suppliers/vendors, customers and other business partners.
