2. Cocos Boutique Hotel by Kametsari

Cocos Boutique Hotel is the first boutique hotel in the Central Jungle in Peru. A small paradise surrounded by green areas nestled in lush gardens and nature where you can have the ability to breathe in every corner. We offer to our guests (What we offer is an unforgettable) experience and an opportunity to get in touch with nature.

Our Main tasks and responsibility:

- To develop our business built-in sustainability, respecting our community and staff.
- Since we are located in a very sensible environment, we give the traveller the message of conservation and sustainability throughout their visit.

3. Our Approach to the 10 principles

In the last year, we have been working on staff awareness in regards to social and environmental issues. In this area of the jungle, inhabitants are not very involved in taking care of these issues, and the importance of caring for it. We had a very hard work, giving them our new practices and apply our sustainability policy. We took it upon us to inform them and apply our sustainability policy to their daily life. Through many activities, now they have consciousness. After many activities, we have succeeded in making them aware of their surroundings.

We developed Conservation programs, giving the community and staff, environmental education and training programs. As well as giving support to municipalities, associations, travel agencies, and native communities.

Due to the fact that we are surrounded in a very delicate environment with native communities; we try to respect our local cultural values, and give this information to our visitors.

4. Future initiatives

In 2014 we are planning to:

- begin workshops to register within the global compact framework .
- Set a strategy to reuse water from precipitations.
 - Generate our own organic resources through tourism and conservation programs.
 - Make sure the abolition of child labour within our suppliers.
