Remarks to Butler's Choice's Communication on Progress report 2013

The Butler's Choice's Communication on Progress report 2013 does not address anti-corruption, the fourth issue area under the Global Compact. The company has chosen to focus its Corporate Social Responsibility efforts on the three other areas, i.e. human rights, labour conditions and environment as these topics are highly relevant for our business, especially the seafood business in Asia. However, this does mean that we do not work against corruption. Butler's Choice has strict procedures with regards to corruption and bribery.

The company's future Communication on Progress reports will address all four issue areas of the Global Compact.

Best regards
