Secretary-General
United Nations
New York, NY 10017

Dear Mr. Secretary-General,

In 1995 Advanced Micro Devices, Inc. (AMD) issued its first annual corporate responsibility report to recognize the importance of being a good corporate citizen, partner, and neighbor in a global community.

I am pleased to confirm that AMD supports the Ten Principles of the United Nations Global Compact on human rights, labor, environment, and anti-corruption. With this communication, we express our intent to support and advance those principles. We will strive to make the UN Global Compact and its principles part of the strategy, culture, and day-to-day operations of our company, and to engage in collaborative projects that advance the broader development goals of the United Nations, particularly the Sustainable Development Goals. AMD will make a clear statement of this commitment to our stakeholders and the public.

We recognize that a key requirement for participation in this UN Global Compact is the annual submission of a Communication on Progress (COP) that describes our company's efforts to implement the Ten Principles. We support public accountability and transparency and remain committed to publishing our annual Corporate Responsibility report, thereby committing to report on progress to these principles within one year of joining the UN Global Compact, and annually thereafter according to the UN Global Compact COP policy.

AMD is proud to be among the number of responsible companies working to advance the Ten Principles of the UN Global Compact and we look forward to our partnership.

Sincerely,
