Dear Mr. Secretary-General,

The Altran Group has supported the ten principles of the United Nations Global Compact with respect to human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption since 2009. We are committed to making the Global Compact and its principles part of our culture, and at the heart of our Corporate Social Responsibility approach. With this communication, we express our intent to advance those principles within our sphere of influence.

This year again, I want to restate the Altran Group's engagement for a socially responsible company and, with this letter, reassert our commitment to the ten principles of the Global Compact.

We recognize that one of our requirements for participating in the Global Compact is the annual submission of a Communication on Progress (COP). Altran CSR reporting is now organised to fulfil the requirements of the French Grenelle 2 law and to respond to our stakeholders' expectations with a dedicated chapter in the Registration Document and a CSR Report. The documents describe our company's efforts to implement the ten principles from January 2013 to December 2013. This CSR reporting, entitled "Together we progress", presents the actions taken in the different countries where we operate and the Group's performance indicators following the Global Reporting Initiative guidelines. In the course of our daily activities, we strive to be "a partner for excellence" for our clients and suppliers; "a responsible employer" for the women and the men that make up the Group; and "a committed player" for the society and the environment in which we live, work and evolve.

Sincerely yours,

Philippe Salle
Chairman and Chief Executive
