UN Global Compact

Maxibit has been a member of the United Nations Global compact since 2007. The UN Global Compact is an alliance of businesses that work for sustainable development through respect for human rights and the environment. Maxibit is the only company of its kind (portable display marketing) in the UN Global Compact.

Innovative design

Maxibit has always been an innovator. We created the first foldable wall in 1978 and we continue to revolutionise the industry with products such as Stage. No other company has a range like ours, a range that makes use of the latest printing technics and innovations to help you stand above the rest.
