4 anganwaris constructed in disaster-hit village

TRIBUNE NEWS SERVICE

DEHRADUN, NOVEMBER 15: Society For Inclusive Development (SFID), Dehradun, in association with Bangalore-based NGO Strides Foundation, have constructed four anganwari centres in the disaster-affected Uttarakashi district.

The SFID had conducted a survey in the Ddgarm Mori, Puroila and Joshiyara blocks of Uttarakashi before starting construction work. As land was not available in other regions, Puroila in Uttarakashi district was finally identified and selected.

A memorandum of understanding was signed with the Uttarakashi district authorities on January 27, 2014. The construction work began in May after approval for the design and structure was obtained. Now the SFID has completed the construction of four anganwaris at Sunali.

said at Puroila that he would make arrangements for getting the connections for all anganwaris and financial support for the construction of pavements in front of these Dharmas around the anganwaris of two computers for each of them.

Dr. Sathyanarayan, managing trustee, Strides Foundation, along with Anil Jaggi, president of the SFID, formally announced the completion of four anganwari centres in Dehradun yesterday. He said 2,000 employees of Strides Acrolab Ltd, Bangalore, had shown keen willingness to support the victims of the natural disaster that struck Uttarakhand in June last year.

The Strides Foundation and the SFID would take up the reconstruction of four other anganwaris at Chandoli, Rulim, Bichlamath and Hadooli in Uttarakashi district.

Malaina, Srikot and Naghahala and handed these over to the district authorities on November 12 in the presence of local MLA Malchanda, Congress leader Suryakant Dharmas and other dignitaries. The MLA

At a time when reconstruction works in flood-ravaged Uttarakhand is going at a snail's pace, a Bengaluru-based pharma company, Strides Acrolab, has completed the construction of four anganwadi centres in Uttarakashi district in six months.

The company through its foundation had evinced interest in the reconstruction of eight damaged anganwadi centres at Puroila block in Uttarakashi. The company had adopted eight such anganwadi centres, said Dr. Sathyanarayan, managing local support. Subsequently, a memorandum of understanding (MoU) was signed between Strides Acrolab and the district administration of Uttarakashi. In January to start the construction of the anganwadi centres, the company began work on the centres at Sunali, Malaina, Srikot and Naghahala villages in Puroila.

After getting necessary approvals, the company began construction work of the centres. The company has spent Rs 1.5 crore on the centres. The centres are being constructed on the sites of the old centres which were badly affected due to the damage caused by floods last year. ## SAL, SFID hand over Anganwari Centers

By OUR STAFF REPORTER

DEHRADUN, 14 Nov: The desire of 2000 employees of Strides Acrolab Ltd, Bangalore to support the flood affected victims of Uttarakhand (June 2013) was converted as a dream of the Strides Foundation Bangalore has finally taken its tangible shape on the Eve of the Children's Day.

The foundation along with its NGO partner Society For Inclusive Development (SFID) handed over four newly constructed Anganwari Centres to Bai Vihar Adhikari (Distt. Project Officer), ICDS Uttarakashi, Mukul Choudhary and CPDO Puroila Seita Agnawal.

It was a vision of Strides Foundation to support the young toddlers of Uttarakhand with its resources and decided to adopt all the eight damaged and partially damaged Anganwari at Puroila Block of Uttarakashi to reconstruct and dedicate the same to the society by handing over to ICDS Deptt, Govt. of Uttarakhand.

Before starting the construction a survey was conducted by SFID in Ddgarm Mori, Puroila and Joshiyara block of Uttarakashi. As the land was not available in other regions, so Puroila was identified and selected.

An MOU was signed, with DM/DPO, Uttarakashi on 27 January 2014 and construction of work was started in May 2014 after getting the necessary approval of the design and structure. Now Foundation has completed, the first phase of construction of four Anganwaris at Sunali, Malaina, Srikot and Naghahala Anganwaris and was handed over on 12 November to DPO, ICDS in the presence of Local MLA Malchanda, SDM Pandey, CPDO, SDO, Gram Pradhan and other local dignitaries.

The Function was marked by the cultural program by the Anganwari Children and local artist Sunder Premi.

The gathering and the authorities have profusely thanked Dr. Sathyanarayan, Managing Trustee, Strides Foundation, Anil Jaggi, President SFID and DS Pandey for their yeoman service to the society.

Taking the inspiration from the quality of the work of Anganwari Local MLA Malchanda announced that he would make arrangement for getting the gas connection to all Anganwari and extend financial support for the pavement in front of the Anganwari. DPO also committed that water and electricity connection would be provided to all ICDS center.

Now Strides Foundation and SFID along with DS Pandey will be taking up the reconstruction of another four Anganwaris at Chandoli, Kufura, Bichlamath and Hadooli and planned to complete by March 2015. We thank all the concern authorities and local leadership for their support in making these dream a reality within timeframe, said Anil Jaggi, in a release
