Subject: Seeking grace for submission of COE

To whom it may concern,

We express our regret that we are late in submitting the new period Communication on Engagement (COE). As our Founder and Honorary President won the Nobel Peace Prize, our organization has been overwhelmed with work and we had to expand our capacity at short notice. Just recently we are fully staffed and now we will be able to submit the Communication on Engagement within the extended grace period.

We would like to assure you that Global March Against Child Labour fully supports the United Nations Global Compact ten principles and that we are committed as UN Global Compact member to submit the Communication on Engagement report. We are totally interested in preparing and sharing an informative COE that will contain information on activities and programs that our foundation has taken during reference period. Thus, we kindly ask you to extend the COE deadline for 90 days as we plan to publish the COE on the Global Compact web-site by January 29, 2016 at the latest.

With the best regards,

Elie Jouen
