INTRODUCTION

Education is a human right which ought to be accessible to everyone, without any discrimination. All children must be able to go to school, and thereby benefit from the same opportunities to build a future.

However, yet many children who come from a poor family still do not get a quality education where they can learn and develop. It will be a financial burden for the low income family to support their children to go to school as the living cost and expenses are rising high in the past few years. Children from disadvantaged environments might not be able to enjoy their right to an education.
