Welcome remarks from Princess Karina

A word from Karina Bagration-Moukhransky, PhD, President and founder of Princess Carina Organization

“Sometimes the simplest things can reveal the essence of what crucially matters. I was born in the USSR, in the family of “White Russian” repatriates. My family and I lived through very difficult times. I know from my own experience what hunger is, physical disability, intolerance, and social injustice are. I am also a Chernobyl Tragedy survivor. This Organization is my personal message to the world and an attempt to turn my own experience into a powerful tool helping the others. Beautiful words and personal experiences are worthless if they do not produce actions and real change. Princess Carina Organization is aiming to work with communities in countries that are experiencing extreme poverty, lack of social cohesion and equality.

Our aim is also to help projects that can motivate individuals and communities to grow more prosperous and equal. I have been myself a patron and advisor to international charities and organizations which range across a wide spectrum. Now, I believe it is high time I used my professional and life experience to respond to some of the world’s most pressing issues. I do hope you can join me by supporting the Organization either financially or through sharing ideas, skills, knowledge, or simply by passing on information about us to your friends and networks”.
