

Onitsha Business School

United Nations Global Compact Communication on Engagement Report

December 2016

Dean's Letter of Renewed Commitment

Onitsha Business School is pleased to restate our commitment to United Nations Global Compact and PRME.

As one of the leading business schools in Nigeria, Onitsha Business School has incorporated the principles and values of United Nations Global Compact and PRME into our business education curriculum. I make a commitment that Onitsha Business School will continue to collaborate with the local network of United Nations Global Compact and PRME to practice and promote the six principles.

Professor Carl Osunde
Dean of Studies
Onitsha Business School
19 A Regina Nwankwu Avenue
GRA, Onitsha, Anambra State
Nigeria

The Six Principles of PRME

Principle 1: Onitsha Business School will develop the capabilities of students to achieve their academic and career potentials as generators of sustainable businesses in an increasingly competitive global business environment.

Principle 2: Onitsha Business School will incorporate into our academic activities and curriculum the values of global social responsibility as depicted by the various initiatives of United Nations Global Compact.

Principle 3: Onitsha Business School will create the educational framework and procedures through management education for responsible leadership and the learning environment to enhance effective learning.

Principle 4: Onitsha Business School will continue to conduct researches that advance our understanding of the environment and impact of businesses in the creation of economic and innovative values to the society.

Principle 5: Onitsha Business School will continue to engage the drivers of the business community in discussions through our monthly breakfast meetings and share our knowledge to enable businesses successfully meet the challenges that confronts them in an ever increasing competitive business environment.

Principle 6: Onitsha Business School organisational procedures and practices as a business school will serve as an example of the values that we convey to students and managers of the business community.