Part II: Description of actions

In two years our intention to improve the welfare of community especially children has been reaffirmed through the initiation of Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) and supported Ten principles of the United Nations Global Compact. This spirit will continue to become the commitment of World Vision as an international Christian humanitarian organization serving in almost 100 countries including Indonesia to enable children to live a life in its fullness.

The world's development including technology advancement has motivated all organizations including World Vision Indonesia to be more innovative in conducting more effective and efficient ministry. The development of system that will support the accountability of programs becomes one of the priorities to do. For example the application of m-Posyandu (Mobile Integrated Health Service Post) has become one of the smart technology-based practices that bring better and more quality health services for children.

Let us maintain our spirit in carrying out development for the community especially children. A hope for the improvement of children's welfare will continue to exist. World Vision Indonesia is sure that through synergic collaboration of all parties, these children, who are the next generation, will be able to live a life in its fullness.

World Vision Indonesia (WVI) main objective of transformational development programme is Child Well Being. WVI keeps contribution in Six Child Well Being priority areas and also related with 10 Principles in UN Global Compact:

1.Children are Well-Nourished Related with Human Rights principle in UN Global Compact

WVI prioritizes the nutrition intervention in the first 1,000 days of life that begins from pregnancy up to two years old as it preserves the critical window period for growth and development through three main interventions: Infant and Young Child Feeding (IYCF), Growth monitoring and Malnutrition Rehabilitation.

2.Children are protected from Infection, Disease related with Human Rights Principle in UN Global Compact Children represent the future. Therefore ensuring their healthy growth and development ought to be a prime concern of all societies. Children particularly newborn, are vulnerable to malnutrition and infectious diseases that can be effectively prevented or treated at home or in primary health facilities. Our programs focus on prevention efforts through Behavioral Change Communication since the root causes of infectious diseases mostly are behavior.

3.Children access and complete basic education related with Human Rights Principle in UN Global Compact

WVI implemented 52 education projects in 29 Area Development Program (ADPs) across Indonesia, consisted of 14 Early Childhood Development (ECD) project, 18 Formal Basic Education projects, 16 Non-Formal Education projects and Project Non-Sponsorship.

4. Adolescent readiness for Economic Opportunities related with Labour Principle in UN Global Compact

The increase number of youth engaged in vocational training and entrepreneurial groups starting their own business and/or gaining employment is encouraging. There are 379 youth participate and get benefit from our programme.

5. Loving & Safe Families & Communities related with Human Rights and Environment Principles in UN Global Compact

There were 255,513 children enjoying their rights due to reducing their vulnerability resulted from district government made important decision to improve policy implementation on Child Friendly City/District.

6. Parents or Caregivers provide well for their children related with Labour and Environment Principles in UN Global Compact

Economic and agriculture development is vital in increasing household income which in turn affects parents/caregivers ability to provide well for their children.

The Local Value Chain Development (LVCD) approach has supported farmers to increase product quality particularly post harvest product which enable them to enter more profitable market. Household economic management including ASCA (Accumulated Savings and Credit Association) savings group used to support the household saving behavior.

In addition, World Vision Indonesia participated at the third Preparatory Committee at Surabaya and UN Habitat III at Quito, Ecuador, as accredited stakeholder to support the implementation of the SDGs in urban areas, specifically Urban SDG #11 "Make cities and human settlements inclusive, safe, resilient and sustainable".
