We engage with the UN Global Compact in the following ways:

3. Measurement of outcomes:

Through our various community projects in the marginalised, we have achieved favourable results for example;

- a) Started a macadamia nut project which improved the quality of crops for small scale macadamia nut farmers enabling them to sell their nuts at a higher price. This project achieved the notion of corporate sustainability as farmers continue to sell nuts of a high quality from their newly acquired farming methods and business management methods gained through our capacity building project 2014 to 2016.

Furthermore, we acknowledge that it's required for participation in the Global Compact to the submission of communication on Engagement (COE) that outlines our organization's commitment to support the implementation of the the principles and engagement with the Global Compact.

Yours faithfully,
