Part I. Statement of Continued Support by the Chief Executive or Equivalent

Statement of Continued Support

05 February 2018

To our stakeholders:

I am pleased to confirm that World Organization for Development reaffirms its support to the United Nations Global Compact and its Ten Principles in the areas of Human Rights, Labour, Environment and Anti-Corruption. This is our Communication on Engagement with the United Nations Global Compact. We welcome feedback on its contents.

In this Communication of Engagement, we describe the actions that our organization has taken to support the UN Global Compact and its Principles as suggested for an organization like ours. We also commit to sharing this information with our stakeholders using our primary channels of communication.

Sincerely yours,

Robert F.Abdullin, President World Organization for Development

Part III. Measurement of Outcomes

Examples of measurement of outcomes include:

1. Number of new UN Global Compact business participants resulting from your organization's promotional efforts:

3 new members or more;

2. Partnerships formalized with mutual aims to advance the UN Global Compact principles:

2 partnerships;

3. Expertise provided by your organization to further the aims of Global Compact Local Network in your country:

A lot of publications were made in the social networks of the organization and the journal World Economic Journal, which promoted the UN Global Compact and did analytical materials on this topic.

4. The Partnership is planned, formalized with the mutual goal of promoting the principles of the UN Global Compact, in the implementation of the Global Initiative for Territorial Entities:

The World Organization for Development in the period from 2009 to 2017 developed the Global Initiative for Territorial Entities and Tools for the implementation of the Global Initiative.

To implement the supranational innovative technological process, the Global Initiative for Territorial Entities established the Initiative Tools:

World Forum of Territorial Entities;

Global Sustainable Development Award;

Artificial Intelligence for the Development of Territorial Entities / AI-TED;

The Statistical Committee of the Global Initiative for Territorial Entities;

World Center for the Development of Territorial Entities / WC-TED;

Initiative for the establishment of the United Nations Program on Territorial Entities;

Global Governors Club of the Global Initiative for Territorial Entities;

Business Club of the Global Initiative for Territorial Entities;

The Governors of the World and the World Economic Journal.

One of the goals of the Global Initiative for Territorial Entities is to reward international corporations with the Global Sustainable Development Award, for their contribution to the development of Territorial Entities.

The Global Initiative for Territorial Entities creates a Global Dialogue Platform for the exchange of best world practices and innovative practices in various areas of territorial development, creating a new impetus in the development of Territorial Entities.

The mission of the Global Initiative for Territorial Entities is the implementation of a supranational innovative technological process created for the sustainable development of Territorial Entities in different countries of the world.

The Global Initiative provides an opportunity to unite more than two thousand Governors and their colossal experience to share best innovative practices in the development and management of the Territorial Entities, to achieve the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

The Global Initiative for Territorial Entities has 17 Goals and corresponds to 9 of the 17 Sustainable Development Goals of the United Nations. The development of the Global Initiative was based on the principles of independence, systematic, multi-year innovation and scientific and practical work.

With great respect to You, Your Excellency,

President of the World Organization for Development, Robert F. Abdullin
