CSR Summary

PARAMI – Corporate Social Responsibility

Parami's vision is to become Myanmar's ethical energy company. Our framework for effective CSR goes beyond profit maximization. We address the core dimensions of CSR through strong policy measures in our operations and through systematic social initiatives.

“For Parami, Corporate Social Responsibility is a framework for ethical governance, and also an approach to engage with communities.”

We understand CSR as our ethical responsibility to abide by structured and transparent measures of conduct in our management and operations. This means we go beyond the basic boundaries of compliance as outlined by local laws. Our standards of operation are aligned with international criteria, and we are committed to a zero-corruption policy as well as a strong human rights policy.

CSR is also a powerful mean to create positive social investments with our profits. Parami's range of social initiatives include donating Company profits to a range of philanthropies, namely through CR@Soul (rural education and reforestation initiatives), the Pyin Nyaw Daya Foundation (assisting clients establish micro-finance schemes and self-sustaining social business models, including supporting education, disability and disaster relief), and the Parami Roundtable Group (initiating workshops to assist small and medium sized businesses with Myanmar's entry into the ASEAN Economic Community).

Our most recent community contribution was the provision of 15kWp of electricity using solar energy to a hospital in Kanni village of Irrawaddy region, Myanmar. The project commissioned in December 2018 and benefits 5,200 people who are related to the hospital. Visit (<http://www.parami.com/ပါရမီစြမ်းအင်မြှုပ်နှံမှုအဖွဲ့အစည်း/>) for more details.

In 2015, the Kayin state recognized Parami's CSR activities in the region (capacity building and tree planting to fight deforestation) and awarded a Certificate of Honor to the Company.
