Context

The Royal Yachting Association (RYA) is the UK's national body for dinghy, yacht and motor cruising, all forms of sail racing, RIBs and sports boats, windsurfing and personal watercraft, and a leading representative for inland waterways cruising. The RYA's Purpose is to Promote and Protect Safe, Successful and Rewarding British Boating. The scope of our activities can be found in the Appendix. Our core values, outlined in the Strategic Plan, include inclusivity, responsibility, excellence and integrity, which resonate throughout the four issue areas of the UN Global Compact.

The RYA is a membership based organisation with 112,000 individual members, 1,500 affiliated clubs and 2,400 affiliated training centres. We have 175 staff, supported by a community of regular volunteers. The RYA headquarters are situated in Hamble, Southampton, and we have three additional premises all based in Portland, Dorset. The scope of this report is based on our direct operations and facilities, areas that the RYA manages and controls. It does not include affiliated clubs and training centres, which are independent organisations.

This is our first Communication on Progress report since joining the UN Global Compact, and aims to highlight the policies and procedures currently in place, as well as introducing our future ambitions in aligning our operations with the 10 Principles.

Human Rights

- Principle 1: Businesses should support and respect the protection of internationally proclaimed human rights; and
- Principle 2: make sure that they are not complicit in human rights abuses.

Policies

The Royal Yachting Association fully supports the Universal Declaration on Human Rights.

Policies relating to our work on Human Rights include:

- Health and Safety Policy
- Safety Management Policy
- Flexible Working Policy and Procedure
- Annual Leave Policy

- Disciplinary Policies and Procedure
- Absence Management Policy and Procedure
- Grievance Policy and Procedure
- Whistleblowing Policy and Procedure
- Learning and Development Policy
- Information and Consultation Policy
- Family-Friendly Policies
 - Maternity Leave Policy
 - Paternity Leave Policy
 - Shared Parental Leave Policy
 - Adoption Leave Policy
 - Parental Leave Policy

Key policies can be accessed online. Staff can access the policies online through the Employee Handbook, which is provided to all staff on first joining the RYA.

Operations and measures

Our policies are implemented in our day-to-day operations. We are committed to ensuring that our employees are not exploited and our work environment is as safe as possible, abiding by all employment, health and safety, and human rights laws. All RYA employees are paid above the UK Living Wage.

We actively promote work-life balance through flexible, family-friendly working practices. We ensure all employees know what is expected of them and provide regular appraisals which measure performance and assist employees in developing their capabilities. We have a grievance procedure which can be initiated by the employee with their line manager or human resources. To protect all employees we implement mandatory bullying and harassment training for all staff.

The professional development of our employees is actively encouraged, by including progression and training needs in the appraisal system, offering a range of training opportunities, and supporting staff to be members of relevant professional bodies.

Furthermore, we have introduced trained mental health champions to support colleagues. These champions form a steering group, which meets quarterly to develop positive initiatives regarding employee wellbeing. RYA employees have access to a free confidential helpline which provides impartial advice and guidance on an array of work related and personal subjects. Additional employment benefits include a 10% salary pension contribution, life assurance, childcare vouchers and other perks, such as work socials, designed to improve employee wellbeing, both at work and in their personal lives.

A staff survey is undertaken annually to measure employee responses to a number of questions about the working environment, communications, team relationships, managers etc. Anonymised results are shared with the Senior Management Team and the Board, to identify appropriate actions. The results and agreed actions are then circulated to employees.

Future ambitions

The RYA aims to expand our policies on Human Rights by publishing a modern slavery statement later this year. Furthermore, we are exploring the introduction of an anonymous forum where all staff are able to raise concerns freely. We wish to further embed human rights across the RYA's activities and our wider network. To improve our employee benefits we will shortly be introducing a discount scheme designed to help employees make savings on everyday life such as shopping and gym memberships.

Labour

- Principle 3: Businesses should uphold the freedom of association and the effective recognition of the right to collective bargaining;
- Principle 4: the elimination of all forms of forced and compulsory labour;
- Principle 5: the effective abolition of child labour; and
- Principle 6: the elimination of discrimination in respect of employment and occupation.

Policies

The RYA adheres to UK laws in relation to labour and discrimination. We respect internationally recognised labour rights standards as set out by the International Labour Organisation and we follow national requirements for labour practices.

The RYA does not use and strongly opposes forced or compulsory labour, and the use of child labour.

Inclusivity is a core value at the RYA. We work to ensure boating is accessible and attractive to the widest audience. We share our expertise, work with partners, and embrace diversity.

The RYA is committed to equality of opportunity and aims to ensure that all present and potential participants, members, instructors, coaches, competitors, officials, volunteers and employees are treated fairly and on an equal basis, irrespective of sex, age, disability, race, religion or belief, sexual orientation, pregnancy and maternity, marriage and civil partnership, gender reassignment or social status

Policies relating to the Labour Principles include:

- Equal Opportunities Policy
- Transgender Equality Policy
- Overtime and Time Off In Lieu Guidance
- Disciplinary Policy and Procedure
- Bullying and Harassment Policy and Procedure
- Recruitment Policy
- Performance Management Policy and Procedure
- Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy
- Safeguarding Adults Policy

Key policies can be accessed online. Staff can access the policies online through the Employee Handbook.

Operations and measures

The RYA was the first National Governing Body to achieve the Advanced level of the Equality Standard for Sport, established by the Sports Councils as a benchmark for the governing bodies to whom they provide funding. The award of the Advanced Standard in 2016 recognised the RYA's commitment to increasing diversity amongst participants in sailing and boating, its staff and committees, and the progress achieved so far – but we recognise there is still more that can done. We have introduced mandatory Disability and Mental Health training and Equality and Diversity training to all staff.

At the RYA we actively encourage equality and increasing diversity across our wider operations. We work to ensure boating is accessible and attractive to the widest audience. We are proud of our scholarship scheme which supports people under the age of 35 to become Race Officials. The RYA has an Equality and Diversity team which provides expert advice and guidance to our partners on actively supporting diversity.

The RYA has a dedicated Human Resources Advisor, based at RYA HQ, who provides support and helps ensure UK legislation is implemented and sustained across the RYA. The RYA is a Disability Confident Committed employer. To facilitate our Equal Opportunities Policy, all job applications are made anonymous and numbered before being shared, to reduce the risk of unconscious bias. All employees have individual contracts which detail their terms and conditions of employment, including the days and hours of work agreed between the employee and the RYA. All interviews and performance assessments are completed using an integrated competency-based framework. Our staff receive Time off in Lieu (TOIL) for working outside of their core hours, including travel time outside of their normal working routine. TOIL is agreed between the employee and their manager, and must be used within a suitable timeframe, to ensure suitable rest time is provided.

The RYA conducts regular equality monitoring of all groups (Board, staff, job applicants, members, coaches, instructors, officials, elite squads) against all nine characteristics protected under the Equality Act 2010, in order to set benchmarks and KPIs and track progress.

Future ambitions

Our ambition is to maintain the high standard of labour rights embedded throughout our operations and culture, and to maintain the Advanced level of the Equality Standard for Sport.

In our Strategic Plan 2017-21 we have committed to increasing the diversity of volunteers (including Board and Committee members), participants, instructors, staff and our wider workforce.

During 2020-21 we will be rolling out mandatory unconscious bias training to our managers, to further strengthen our work on equality.

Environment

- Principle 7: Businesses should support a precautionary approach to environmental challenges;
- Principle 8: undertake initiatives to promote greater environmental responsibility; and
- Principle 9: encourage the development and diffusion of environmentally friendly technologies.

Policies

The RYA recognises that the protection of the environment is an integral part of our business. We believe that environmental damage is avoidable so will do everything reasonably practicable to prevent it to ensure that our members can continue to enjoy the experience of boating in a clean environment.

The RYA's Environmental Policy (Appendix B) highlights the Association's commitment to complying with applicable environmental legislation, preventing pollution, identifying and minimising risks to the environment posed by RYA organised events, and ensuring our continued improvement in performance.

The Environmental Policy can be found online and within the Employee Handbook.

Operations and measures

Environment and sustainability are high on the agenda at the RYA. The Planning and Sustainability Team, based at RYA HQ, has grown by 1.5 members over the past year. The team works closely with the Planning and Sustainability Committee, who meet quarterly, to discuss environmental objectives and focus areas. In addition to the UN Global Compact, the RYA are members of the UNFCCC Sports for Climate Action Framework.

Key actions in this area include installing electric car chargers at our headquarters which are free for staff to use, switching our energy supplier to the deep-green energy supplier Eco-tricity, collecting baseline data on environmental performance, carrying out a stakeholder consultation to support the development of the sustainability strategy, and improving waste disposal and recycling facilities at RYA HQ. We have also been improving the sustainability of our events by looking at environmentally friendly procurement options, promoting water refill stations at venues and arranging car sharing for staff attending events.

The Green Blue is a joint environmental programme by the RYA and British Marine, established in 2005. It aims to inspire sustainable recreational boating for cleaner, healthier waters. By working with individuals, clubs, centres and marine businesses The Green Blue raises awareness and promotes good practice. Key focus areas include habitats and wildlife, invasive species, pollution, and antifouling. Through The Green Blue, RYA affiliated clubs and centres can access expert advice and guidance on improving the sustainability of their own events, policies, and facilities.

Communications are recognised as an important aspect of our environmental work, so we regularly post internal and external articles and social media posts, to raise awareness and further promote good practice.

Future ambitions

The RYA is focused on progressing its environmental effort. We are developing an Environmental Management System which will be certified to ISO 14001. Later this year we will be publishing a Sustainability Strategy incorporating the UN Global Compact's Environmental Principles, highlighting our focus and aims. Our operations do not meet the scale for obligatory CDP reporting, but going forward we intend to voluntarily report our scope 1 and scope 2 emissions.

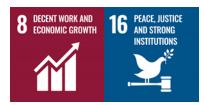

The RYA will continue to resource and promote The Green Blue programme in partnership with British Marine. As a partner to the EU LIFE ReMEDIES Project we will work towards the Project's aims of saving vital seabed habitats, and we will continue to work in partnership to achieve our environmental goals in our role of secretariat to the European Boating Association, and through our memberships, affiliations and business partnerships.

Anti-corruption

Principle 10: Businesses should work against corruption in all its forms, including extortion and bribery.

Policies

The RYA works in a transparent and sincere manner, making balanced and impartial decisions.

The RYA is against corruption and supports the UN convention against corruption.

The RYA is committed to upholding the letter and spirit of the Bribery Act 2010.

Our policies relating to Anti-Corruption include:

- Anti-Bribery Policy
- Fraud Policy
- Conflicts of Interest Policy
- Financial Interests Policy

Key policies can be accessed online. Staff can access the policies online through the Employee Handbook.

Operations and measures

The RYA takes a zero-tolerance approach to bribery and corruption and is committed to acting professionally, fairly and with integrity in all its relations and operations. A key aspect of this is the RYA governance via a Board of Directors comprised of a mix of non-executive and executive directors that meets regularly to conduct its business. It is chaired by the Chair of the RYA.

The role of the Board is to supervise the management of the Association's business and to discharge the responsibilities of the directors under the Companies Act and also in compliance with the Code of Sports Governance, which sets out the levels of transparency, accountability and financial integrity that are required from those bodies that receive Government and National Lottery Funding. RYA Policy Forming Committees report directly to the Board.

The Board will ordinarily be comprised of up to four Nominated Directors appointed by the Members and up to three Independent Directors appointed by the Board who are appointed on the basis of personal competencies, through an open recruitment process. The Chief Executive and Finance Director sit on the Board ex officio. Members of the Board serve a four year term. All Directors are required to sign a Declaration of Good Character and a Code of Conduct, and all staff and Directors are expected to follow our Anti-Bribery, Gifts and Entertainment, and Conflicts of Interest Policies. There is also a Code of Conduct for Employees. We also encourage staff and volunteers to utilise our Whistleblowing Policy where required.

The Board ordinarily delegates the day-to-day running of the Association to the Chief Executive and Finance Director who are accountable to the Board in respect of the same. This includes matters pertaining to Health and Safety.

The Audit and Risk Committee acts independently to draw the Board's attention to matters affecting the proper protection of the RYA's interests with regard to the material risks to the RYA, financial reporting, strategic and operational plans, and Board procedures. It monitors identified risks via the Risk Register. The A&RC Chair is appointed by the RYA Board from amongst the Non-Executive Directors (except the RYA Chair) coterminous with the term of office on the Board. Standing members of the A&RC serve a term of three years, subject to a maximum of two three year terms.

Future ambitions

The RYA will continue to strengthen our actions and operations with integrity, ensuring we remain transparent and honest. In addition, details of our support to the UN Global Goals and Principle 10 will be highlighted in the 2020 'RYA Annual Report & Accounts'.
