Statement of continued support by the Chief Executive Officer (CEO)

BLS's CEO makes a formal commitment to Global Compact principles every year in her note to shareholders.

Dear Shareholders,

In the decisions we make as a company, BLS's key reference points remain more than ever the social and environmental concerns. This year I am pleased to confirm that we have continued in this vein and have strived to advance the principles of Global Compact both within the company and throughout our customer and supplier base and, at our modest level, work towards the Sustainable Development Goals as set out by the UN Global Compact .

Since joining in 2004, we have continually upheld the ten principles of Global Compact with regards to human rights, labor standards, protection of environment and anti-corruption, promoted and supported those principles within our company and have striven to extend them to our sister companies, BLS formation and BLS Group. This commitment is included in our website on the home page.

This year we applied for and were granted a Grace period to cover the later publishing of our Communication on Progress due to the outbreak and pandemic spread of the Coronavirus Covid19 which has disrupted considerably our ability to function normally as an organisation.

Our efforts are and were centred on helping our staff cope with the confinement situation in France with regard to their work for the company and more generally their well-being and support and, on liaising with our customers and finding solutions where possible to the organisational problems this virus is causing.

As of June, France is progressively coming out of lockdown whilst taking precautionary measures to ensure that members of the public stay safe. We as a company are taking measures in line with government guidelines to enable our staff to carry out their activities as safely as possible in the new « post » pandemic but ongoing Covid-19 outbreak.

In the body of the Communication on Progress, some of these measures that have been implemented are described as well as all other practical actions taken by BLS to support and practice the principles of Global Compact in our everyday working lives.

As always practical actions taken by our group in the last year are summarized in our Communication on Progress and periodically in our internal newsletters to staff.

Assessment, Policy and Goals

Protection of Internationally recognized principles including Human Rights is expressly part of BLS's Code of Ethics, which is distributed to all employees when they are recruited. We reassert our commitment to the respect of human rights principles and labour law in the contracts we sign with our customers.

We also ensure that our suppliers respect human rights principles and respect the French laws and practices.

We respond favorably to surveys on our respect of human rights carried out by autonomous organizations.

Implementation

We publicize on our noticeboard our commitment to equality of treatment and respect for our staff and our commitment to ensuring that no form of harassment occurs in BLS.

Globally very satisfactory, we have applied improvements in terms of ergonomics in the company to optimize working conditions. Posters have been put up around the offices and in the bathrooms to remind staff of the essential “barrier” measures preventing the spread of the virus, detailed communication documents have been sent to all the staff during lockdown to help them adapt their way of working and inform them (in English and in French) of the current situation and measures taken/ to be taken. Weekly phone calls to staff to check on their health, both physical and mental, to provide them with advice, help and support during this difficult time.

BLS regularly consults an external legal firm to validate the contracts that are signed with staff.

BLS commissions this external legal firm to review contractual agreements with our staff to ensure that they correspond to any changes that may have occurred in French labour law in the previous year.

Environmental Principles

Principle 7: Businesses should support a precautionary approach to environmental challenges;
Principle 8: undertake initiatives to promote greater environmental responsibility; and
Principle 9: encourage the development and diffusion of environmentally friendly technologies

Assessment, Policy and Goals

Description of the relevance of environmental protection for the company

Description of policies, public commitments and company goals on environmental protection

BLS has elaborated an Ecological Charter that is systematically handed out to each newly recruited employee. This document explains BLS's commitment to protecting the environment, preventing and managing environmental risks.

BLS ensures sustainability in the management of all its activities and is committed to minimize its impact on the environment such as promoting car sharing and preference for public transport.

Implementation

Some concrete examples of the implementation of our ecological charter are :

- investing and implementing a comprehensive management tool “Manageall” to reduce and in some cases to eliminate totally paper pedagogical files and to allow our trainers to access and update their planning remotely.
- installing movement detectors in the common areas of the building to economize energy while still maintaining lighting in these areas.
- further promotion of telephone or classes by Skype or Webcam to reduce the carbon footprint due to driving to and from our customers' offices for classes where public transport is not available. This has taken off considerably in the light of the Covid-19 lockdown and has been extended to group on line classes.
- the development and diffusion of environmentally friendly technologies – promotion of e-learning tools and remote conferencing internally. A formal offer for videoconferencing now represents a key element in our training solutions offer.
- the decision to work with suppliers that are committed to respecting the environment and with a sustainable development.
- Renewal of the main photocopier / printer certified “imprimvert”, the French ecological label”, with additional functions to reduce energy consumption , reduce noise, ink and costs.
- raising awareness among suppliers by asking them for environmental data on their products.
- to favour “soft copies” of training materials (podcasts, IT versions of training packs) over “hard copies” such as paper training manuals and burning CDs. This option is actively promoted in our response for calls for tender and several companies have seized this more cost effective and environmentally friendly option.
- Reduction by 50% of use of personal cars for the top management of the company.

- Use of distance communication tools (Teams, skype etc) for training courses to further limit transport costs
- Development of “inter-class” digital and online materials to reduce paper consumption and help our students maintain and improve their language skills when they are not available for formal tuition.

Sustainable Development Goals (SDG)

Our actions contribute to the SDGs 8 and 13 in that :

- ✓ we provide decent working conditions for our employees and our Quality charter commits to ensuring that our classes are carried out in environments that encourage learning and have access to direct natural light.
- ✓ We strive towards reducing the carbon footprint linked to our training activities (reducing travel generally by the use of distant media to conduct training, by digitalizing our training materials, by favouring public transport solutions)
