To our Interest Groups:

We recognize that a key requirement to participate in the United Nations Global Compact is the annual preparation and publication of a Communication on Progress (CoP) that includes a declaration of continuing support to the Global Compact, a description of the practical actions taken related to the ten principles of the Global Compact, and metrics of current or expected results.

This year, our organization, Delphinus, requires a little more time to accomplish the publication of our CoP, which should be on February 19, 2022, due to the fact that several of the figures that we include every year in the report come from the end of the fiscal year, which happens very close to the current date of publication. This is why we request an extension on the due date to make the necessary adjustments in the drafting calendar of the CoP report in which we describe our organization's efforts and the progress on the implementation of the principles of the Global Compact.

Our CoP report will be published on the UN Global Compact's website no later than May 15, 2022.
