Statement of Continued Support

To our stakeholders,

I am pleased to confirm that the Royal Yachting Association continues to support the Ten Principles of the United Nations Global Compact with respect to human rights, labour, environment, and anti-corruption.

With this communication, we express our intent to continue to advance these principles within our organisation. We are committed to integrating the United Nations Global Compact and its principles as part of the strategy, culture and day-to-day operations of our organisation, and to engage in collaborative projects which advance the broader development goals of the United Nations, particularly the Sustainable Development Goals.

In our third Communication on Progress, we describe our continued efforts to amalgamate the Global Compact and its principles into our operations. In each area, the COP notes the policies in place, the practical actions that have been taken, the measures used to review and record our progress and future ambitions. We also commit to sharing this information with our stakeholders using our primary channels of communication.

Over this period, we have continued to progress with embedding the Ten Principles across our activities and operations. This includes the publication of a set of new policies including Modern Slavery and our Carbon Pathway to Net Zero. The next 12 months will see further developments with the implementation of an Environmental Management System.

Yours faithfully,
