07

Businesses should support a precautionary approach to environmental challenges;

Actions realized

While environmental protection is a particularly important aspect for most industries, the gaming industry has relatively low environmental impact. However, INTRALOT is aware of the future repercussions of environmental degradation and monitors its environmental performance.

Being committed to environmental management and protection, INTRALOT:

- Has included its commitment to minimize its environmental impact, conserve resources and reduce waste and emissions in its Code of Conduct and all employees are obliged to report any actual or potential violation of environmental laws or any event that may result in a discharge or emission of hazardous materials.
- Has established an ISO 14001:2015 compliant Environmental Management System (EMS) and an Environmental Legislation Monitoring Procedure to ensure compliance with applicable national and international laws and regulations.
- Takes into consideration regular environmental impact assessments, through which the Company systematically identifies and evaluates the environmental impact of its activities, based on the environmental impact's severity and likelihood of occurrence.
- Has appointed an Environmental Risk Officer to monitor environmental risks, propose changes to the EMS and ensure proper understanding and implementation.
- Reviews environmental legislation and regulations to comply and apply their provisions.

Actions realized

INTRALOT seeks to promote environmental protection issues and encourages initiatives related to environmental protection.

The Company:

- Follows the relevant legislative framework concerning waste disposal and does not directly send any waste to landfills. Instead, all waste is systematically collected and sent to a licensed recycling partner, who transports waste and handles waste disposal in an appropriate and environmentally friendlier manner.
- Is responsible to remove hazardous waste included in hardware produced or traded by INTRALOT according to environmental procedures in cases of leased equipment that is removed after the expiration of the agreement.
- Utilizes internal communication means (e.g. email, Corporate intranet portal, posters) to raise employee awareness on environmental protection and efficient use of energy sources.
- Supports the activities of its Corporate Volunteer Group, which was created in 2005 and actively engages in various programs and initiatives with Stakeholders and the wider public on environmental protection issues.
- Briefs newly hired employees on recycling through the Corporate Induction Program.

In 2021, INTRALOT implemented the internal awareness campaign 'Going Green at the Office' with simple tips to reduce energy consumption and waste, reuse paper and other materials (e.g. food and beverage containers), as well as recycle paper, metals, glass, plastic, domestic batteries, light bulbs, and electronic devices. Furthermore, the Company plans to replace part of its gasoline vehicles with newer hybrid vehicles in 2022, which have lower fuel consumption and fewer emissions.

Businesses should support a precautionary approach to environmental challenges;

Actions realized

Although INTRALOT's operations are not energy intensive, the Company consciously seeks to reduce energy consumption. Additionally, the Company has adopted the Restriction of Hazardous Substances (RoHS) Directive 2002/95/EC for all terminals, which limits or bans specific substances in electronic and electric equipment (e.g. lead, cadmium, PBB, mercury, hexavalent chromium, PBDE flame retardants) and requires from suppliers located in Europe to comply also with the Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment (WEEE) Directive 2002/96/EC.

Aiming to use environmentally friendlier technologies in product design, INTRALOT:

- Promotes the use of digital solutions and develops products that allow paperless game participation.
- Develops terminals with cameras to replace page scanners and has designed 40% of its gaming terminals fan-less, which reduces materials and parts required.
- Has introduced ARM technology processors in all retailer terminals, which combine high computing power and low energy consumption.
- Uses category 6 external power packs in all terminals (the latest efficiency standard) to ensure the lowest energy footprint during operation and stand-by mode.
- Has fully replaced conventional CCFL (cold-cathode fluorescent lamp) technology monitors with LED monitors, which use 30%-50% less energy than conventional monitors and do not contain mercury, halogen or lead.
- Uses plastic and metals that can be recycled in its terminals and the majority of electronic components.
- Uses recycled paper for the packaging carton boxes of its terminals and all packaging material is durable and reusable.

Furthermore, despite the fact that the climate impact of air transportation is currently not sufficiently regulated by national or international laws, the Company voluntarily commits to minimize air travel and travelled air miles, in order to further reduce its impact on climate change. Indicatively, INTRALOT:

- Utilizes remote session technologies and conference calls to reduce the number and frequency of business travels.
- Extensively uses e-learning training programs.
- Combines trips and activities to minimize the number of flights required.
- Uses the most direct routes possible, since take-offs and landings increase the amount of fuel consumed.
