

CEO Letter

February 15, 2021

SABIC's commitment to the UN Global Compact

In so many ways, 2020 tested our abilities to be agile and resilient in the face of the pandemic. During challenging times like these, I take comfort in institutions, such as the UNGC, that advance the greater good and remind us to work for something more than just our immediate gain.

SABIC has been a signatory to the UNGC since 2012. I am proud to lead an organization that not only upholds the 10 principles of the UNGC but also demonstrably contributes to the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) through its daily business operations.

Our UNGC membership reflects the positive contribution business can make to create a more prosperous and sustainable world. UNGC sets an essential guideline for establishing and maintaining a culture of integrity and prompting businesses to uphold their obligations to society and the environment, thus laying the foundation for a better future for all.

In 2020, we further aligned our strategy and operations with universal principles on human rights, the environment, labor and anti-corruption. Program improvements from supplier due diligence and capacity building through the manufacturing and sales chain allowed us to deliver products to our customers in a manner that advances societal goals. This was of particular importance during the pandemic as we focused on supplying materials for life-saving medical and protective equipment, sanitary packaging and other essential items.

Our Communication on Progress (COP) is integrated into SABIC's Sustainability Report and highlights how SABIC's employees around the world are dedicating their capabilities and expertise to improve the products we offer to our communities and society.

Despite the challenges of the past year, as a company and a member of the global business community, we also have reasons for hope. As you look through our COP, you will see firsthand how we use UNGC and the SDGs to guide our course toward creating value for our stakeholders.

At SABIC, we are proud of our accomplishments and invite you to view our COP and our full Sustainability Report to see how we make 'Chemistry That Matters™' for a growing and changing world.

Sincerely yours,

Yousef Abdullah Al-Benyani
Vice Chairman and CEO