

United Nations Global Compact
Communication on Engagement

9th July 2022

To Whom It May Concern

It is with pride that we hereby reaffirm our commitment to the Ten Principles of the United Nations Global Compact in the areas of Human Rights, Labour, Environment, and Anti-Corruption, and support the initiatives undertaken in this respect.

Accordingly, we submit our own Communication on Engagement to highlight our own continuing Action Plan, and invite your feedback. This Communication will also be made available to all of our stakeholders through our primary channels of communication, and invite their participation in the same.

Yours sincerely,
Small Island States Foundation

Description of Actions

Small Island States Foundation ("SISF"), being an organization dedicated to the promotion and support of applied research for "solutions which foster sustainable economic development in the islands of the world", uses its available resources to ensure that the applied research supported by the organization encompasses or takes note of the Ten Principles in areas applicable to the research.

During the past two years, as the world battled with the coronavirus pandemic, the primary social activity of the SISF, the hosting of the award-winning Islands of the World Fashion Showcase ("IWFS"), was suspended in the interest and safety of all participants.

However, the themes supported and expounded by SISF will be enhanced and promoted through the work and activities of a new affiliate, Inti Corporation Ltd., a start-up renewable and sustainable energy supplier based in The Bahamas, which has subscribed to the international best practices in the principles of Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) policies being formulated for implementation in both the public and private sectors. Accordingly the adoption of these policies into the daily operations of the company will include the principles encapsulated in the UN Global Compact and followed by IWFS. These will include reference to the themes, policies, and practices in all promotional material, and the implementation of the same in the daily operations and governance of the company.

In this regard, Goals 1, 5, 8, and 9 continue to remain particularly relevant in the execution of this initiative as it relates to island nations and territories.

Measurement of Outcomes

This initiative undertaken in commitment to the Global Compact will continue to be evident in (a) the scope of applied research promoted and supported by the organization with the resources at its command, (b) the promotion and encouragement of sustainable and eco-friendly methods in the means of production within the relevant industries, now to include sustainable renewable energy, and (c) the dissemination of the research and promotion of the products in all relevant trade media and proprietary publications.
