Editorial

In 2018, we very proudly celebrated “Our First 100 Years”, a symbol of the audacious and resolute route followed by our elders and former Boccard staff. 2019 has opened a new road to “Our Next 100 Years” which will question every generation on our role in a global, open environment. Convinced that our company’s future will be guided by challenges that we can take up collectively, we have decided to bring our customers, suppliers, and staff together, all as partners committed to guaranteeing equal opportunities for all and preparing the ground for the future. This is the major ambition that catalyzes our Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) commitment.

Our commitment is Social as we have made the safety of Boccard’s staff our priority. We favor initiatives to enable every one of us to make the performances of a flexible company his or her own, and we share common values together by our everyday behavior in respect of each other.

We have a Solidarity commitment as we guarantee equal opportunities for all. We prepare for the future by helping the young in their first job and we support initiatives related to our values throughout the whole world.

We have a commitment to the Environment as the challenge on natural resources is our aim and adapting our offer to energy efficiency also helps our clients to take up this challenge.

Our commitment is also Ethical as the fight against fraud and all forms of corruption is a prior requirement for business which we want to be responsible.

Understanding our aim, identifying the issues at stake, promoting and celebrating initiatives and systematically putting ourselves into question by means of new improvement strategies all help us to go forward together every single day.
