

COMMUNICATION ON ENGAGEMENT (COE)

Period covered by this Communication On Engagement 2022/2024
From: September 2022 To: September 2024

Part I. Statement of Continued Support

To our Stakeholders,

The University of Rome “Tor Vergata” reaffirms its support to the United Nations Global Compact and its Ten Principles in the areas of Human Rights, Labour, Environment and Anti-Corruption. This is our Communication on Engagement report with the United Nations Global Compact.

Since Tor Vergata is strongly committed to the transition to sustainable development, this University is carrying out numerous activities that the internal Departments are gathering during these months.

This COE is part of another type of report, the full version of our sustainable activities is present on the Sustainability Report 2021 (Italian and English language, <https://sostenibile.uniroma2.it/ateneo-sostenibile/rapporto-di-sostenibilita/>).

In the fourth Communication of Engagement, we describe some of the main actions that our organization has taken to support the UN Global Compact and its Principles as suggested for an organization like ours. We also commit to sharing this information with our stakeholders using our primary channels of communication.

Sincerely yours,

Gloria Fiorani, Full Professor, University Contact Point of Global Compact Network, University of Rome “Tor Vergata”.

Part II. Description of Actions and Part III. Measurement of Outcomes

Sustainable development is an important global objective to overcome the economic, environmental and societal crises in many countries and an important strategy to fight the negative impact of Covid-19. The Higher Education can contribute to sustainability social and economical change (Scholz et al., 2006; Filho, 2000; Scholz et al., 2000) in strategical level (visioning and setting long-term strategy), tactical level (facilitate the cooperation with different stakeholder) and operational level (higher education can implement change in the curricula, researches and in their campus). In doing that, alongside the traditional missions typical of Italian Universities (education, research and the relationships with institutions and companies operating in their reference territories), Tor Vergata is committed to make the “sustainable development paradigm” central to all its activities, a choice fully in line also with the strategic directions developed by the Italian Rectors to build the “Universities of the future”.

The new mission and vision of the University of Rome “Tor Vergata” aim to contribute to people’s education and training, to scientific research and technological, organisational and social innovation needed to achieve the SDGs approved by the UN

September 2015, with a view to third mission. The University of Rome “Tor Vergata” aims at playing a leading role in research and education, as well as in technological, economic, organisational and social development in order to become not only a 'sustainable University' but also one of the best European Universities by 2025.

The University of Rome “Tor Vergata” has more than 30,000 students, it has ranked is among the top 100 in the world in 2017 ranking by THE (Times Higher Education) which only considers top universities founded for less than 50 years and University of Rome Tor Vergata is the only Italian University in the “QS Top 50 Under 50”, a ranking of the world’s top 50 universities established within the last 50 years . They aim to be a real promoter of the territorial sustainability and to straightening the collaboration with the private and public sector, third sector organisation and investors, at national and international level. From 2014, was released a Sustainability Plan, including the actions required to reduce long-term negative externalities - with particular reference to greenhouse gas emissions - generated by the University activities. More recently, in February 2016, in collaboration with the Unipolis Foundation, proposed the creation of the Italian Alliance for Development Sustainable (ASviS) with the intent to grow the awareness on the importance of the issues addressed in Agenda of Global Sustainable Development 2030. In the same year, was created the Committee for the implementation of the Mission and Vision of sustainable development in the University, this Committee is a working group made up of representatives of each Department of the University. From 2018, the Committee create a specific University Green Office.

The University of Rome “Tor Vergata” played an important role in international, national and local scenario and promote the ten principles of Global Compact through:
