Communication on Engagement

December, 28th, 2022

Dear Stakeholders

I am pleased to confirm that American International Chamber of Commerce reaffirms its support to the Ten Principles of the United Nations Global Compact on human rights, labour, environment and anti-corruption. . This is our Communication on Engagement with the United Nations Global Compact.

In this Communication of Engagement, we describe the actions that our organization has taken to support the UN Global Compact and its Principles as suggested for an organization like ours. We also commit to sharing this information with our stakeholders using our primary channels of communication.

During COVID-19 restrictions, we worked to continue our support of the goals and principles at the global level through virtual stakeholder engagement process including participation in “Famous enterprises at home and abroad in Sichuan” in Chengdu, Sichuan, China in March 2022, 2020 Asian Film Festival Los Angeles, 2021 Asia Film Festival Los Angeles and 2022 Asian Film Festival, and 2022 Miss Asia International beauty pageant Los Angeles, and other webinars and following COVID-19 participation at the public and private events.

In addition, we partnered with a new private and public partners in addressing the SDGs through a various projects that help people move out of poverty through access to financial services and training, particularly around girls education, agricultural livelihoods and supporting marginalised groups such as people with disabilities, rural youth and refugees (SDG 1,2,4,5), attract new participants to the UN Global Compact through their outreach efforts and awareness raising.

We are committed to making the UN Global Compact and its principles part of the strategy, culture and day-to-day operations of our company, and to engaging in collaborative projects which advance the broader development goals of the United Nations, particularly the Sustainable Development Goals. American International Chamber of Commerce will make a clear statement of this commitment to our stakeholders and the general public. Organize learning and dialogue events, workshops and training for their members on the UN Global Compact and specific topics relevant to corporate sustainability

We support public accountability and transparency, and therefore commit to report on progress within one year of joining the UN Global Compact, and annually thereafter according to the UN Global Compact COP policy. Actions and outcomes over the more than last two years by Opportunity International in support of the UN Global compact have included:

Sincerely yours, Actions and outcomes over the more than last two years by American International Chamber of Commerce in support of the UN Global compact have included:

Work in support of the Sustainable Development Goals

From 2021 to 2022, AICC was based in Beijing, China, where we represented U.S. companies, primarily from the Los Angeles, California area, at the China Fair for International Trade in Services. In our process of developing business cooperation and exchange, we focused on the ten principles of the United Nations Global Compact on human rights, labor, the environment and anti-corruption. Focusing on lifting people out of poverty through access to financial services and training,

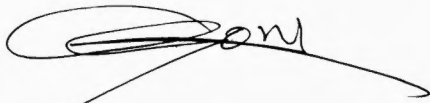

From 2021 to 2022, we will be in Chengdu, China, where we will continue our key cultural project to support the development of women in ASIA, MISS ASIA INTERNATIONAL, through which we will improve and enhance the status of women, care for their employment and education opportunities, As well as defending oneself and safeguarding one's health against the COVID-19 pandemic. By providing financial, cultural, educational and life skills training, participants gain and enhance their viability and career development ability.

Since 2019, AICC, based in Los Angeles, United States, has supported ethnic minorities and minority youth seeking better employment and career opportunities in multicultural development through the creation and hosting of the Asian Film Festival Cultural program, and expanded the reach of minority filmmakers through international investors and partners. And the access of minority films to international markets, increasing revenues and expanding the impact of their productions, lifting poverty, strengthening resilience to natural disasters and pandemics, and promoting digital applications have supported and influenced thousands of global participants.

Key outcomes of the assessment include:

Our long-term projects have promoted the interaction between Chinese small business and international small business enterprise, and increased employment opportunities and economic development. Many projects have not only promoted and popularized the initiative concept of the United Nations Global Compact, but also created dozens of direct jobs and hundreds of indirect jobs. The projects have sustainable development opportunities and potential. Women's businesses, minority businesses and small and medium-sized enterprises were supported. Engage their members in collective action efforts on Global Compact- related issues
