A HOLISTIC APPROACH BY SR ASIA

Objective, challenged and balanced perspective

- We will look to objectively look the current assumptions and prevailing notions. In analysing the current situation, we will reflect in a balanced and sensitive manner, the views of all related stakeholders.

Technical leads will be sector experts

- We have structured our lead implementation team to offer a sector experience of Woman and Child Health, Nutrition and those with expertise in handling Baseline Assessment. We have a technical team which has extensive experience in both strategy development and operational efficacy. We also intend to rope in experts who are familiar with the region, and who have extensive experience of documenting best practices of Women and Child care.

Connected thinking

- SR Asia has the leverage of working in similar sector within India . We have access to numerous best practices and share region specific learnings with teams within the organisation.

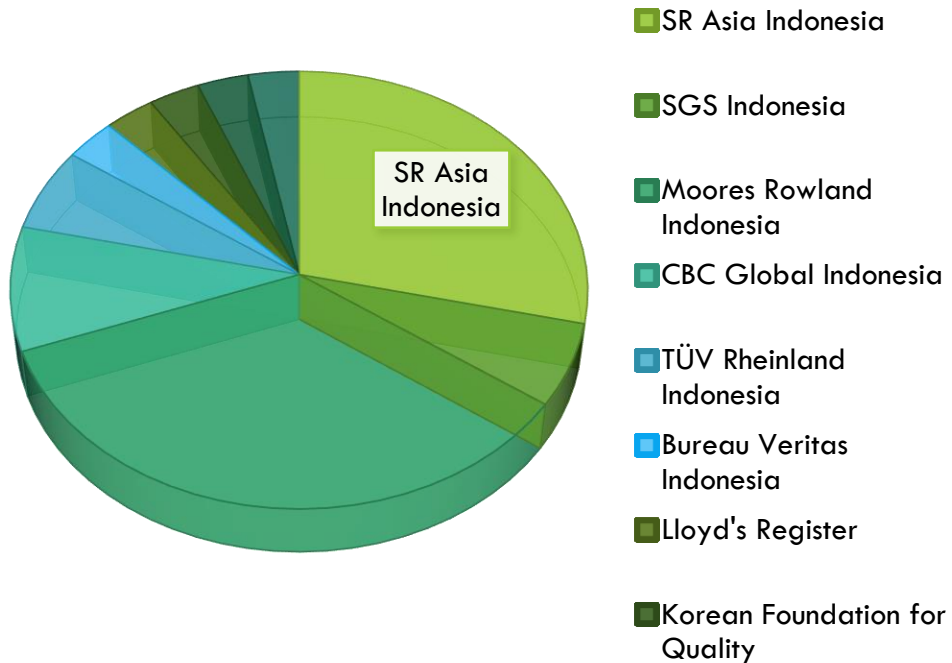

Participatory approach

- We propose to consult with you and other key stakeholders throughout the engagement. The purpose of these consultations will be to test the agreed approach and findings, and to invite you and other key stakeholders to input into the entire process .
