- Fair Selection Process: All nominations will be considered fairly and evaluated on merit in accordance with the outlined criteria.

The Adolescent Champions Initiative recognizes and rewards the selected adolescents in the following manner:

- 1. Recognition: Selected adolescents are honored and felicitated at a regional-level program organized by UN Volunteers-India.
- 2. Certificate: A United Nations approved certificate is awarded to the selected adolescents in recognition of their leadership and contributions.

3. Training: Extensive training is provided to approximately 400 adolescents across different states, aiming to enhance their skills in various areas such as child rights, child marriage, child abuse, child labor, sexual and reproductive health, financial literacy, and participatory governance.

The initiative focuses on acknowledging the efforts and achievements of young leaders while also providing them with the necessary training and support to further their understanding and impact in crucial areas related to adolescent welfare and development.

Meeting these requirements ensures that the participants possess the necessary knowledge, skills, and commitment to contribute effectively as Adolescent Champions, furthering the initiative's goals and impact.

Important Note: The nomination process is free of cost, and no fees should be instructed or collected from the nominated champions.
