Coorg Public School and PU College Designated as United Nations School

Students Commemorate International Human Solidarity Day

In a significant recognition of its commitment to global education and solidarity, Coorg Public School and PU College, located in Gonikoppal, India, has been designated as a United Nations School. The school's dedication to fostering international understanding and cooperation has earned it this prestigious designation, furthering its mission to cultivate responsible global citizens.

Today, on the occasion of International Human Solidarity Day, observed annually on December 20, 23, the students of Coorg Public School and PU College took center stage to mark the significance of the day. During the morning assembly, schoolchildren passionately expressed their perspectives on the importance of solidarity and cooperation in addressing global challenges and promoting peace.

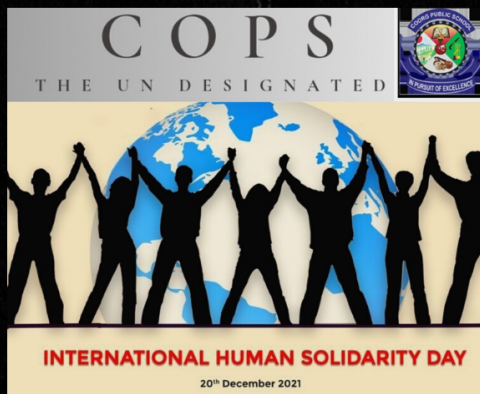

Dr. M Ramachandran, the esteemed Principal of the school, along with the Secretary General of the National UN Volunteers-India team, addressed the gathering to commend the students and teachers for their unwavering commitment to fostering solidarity and understanding. They shed light on the significance of International Human Solidarity Day, emphasizing the need for collective action to tackle pressing global issues and build a more inclusive and equitable world.

The designation of Coorg Public School and PU College as a United Nations School stands as a testament to its dedication to promoting the values of the United Nations and nurturing future leaders who are cognizant of their roles in advancing international solidarity and cooperation.

The program was well organised by Mrs Teena Machaiah, Coordinator of the students'UN Volunteers team in the school.
