

Ms Chetna Khurana cares much
#Goal 4: Quality Education # Global Goals
Resolution 2024

Ms Chetna Khurana

The National UN Volunteers-India cares much about SDG 4 Quality Education, Global Goals

UN Resolution 2024

Ms Chetna Khurana, School secretary of St Mary's Academy, Meerut Cantt, UP

As the school secretary of St. Mary's Academy, Meerut Cantt, UP, I am honored to address you today on the occasion of the International Day of Education. Education is not only a human right, but also a powerful tool for transforming lives and societies. It is the key to achieving the Sustainable Development Goals and building a peaceful, prosperous and inclusive world.

That is why I fully support the UN Resolution 2024, which calls for an international legally binding agreement to end plastic pollution by 2024. Plastic pollution is one of the most pressing environmental challenges of our time, affecting the health of people, wildlife and ecosystems. It also threatens the quality of education, as it disrupts learning environments, exposes children to harmful chemicals and wastes valuable resources.

We cannot afford to let plastic pollution jeopardize the future of our children and our planet. We need to act now and join forces to tackle this global problem. We need to reduce our consumption of single-use plastics, promote circular economy solutions, and support innovation and research. We need to educate ourselves and others about the impacts of plastic pollution and the ways to prevent it. We need to demand that our governments and businesses take urgent and ambitious action to end plastic pollution and protect our environment.

As a school community, we are committed to doing our part in this fight. We have adopted a zero-waste policy, banned plastic bottles and bags, and implemented recycling and composting programs. We have also integrated environmental education into our curriculum, and organized awareness campaigns and clean-up activities. We have partnered with local and global organizations to share our best practices and learn from others. We have empowered our students to become agents of change and leaders of tomorrow.

We believe that quality education and environmental sustainability are interlinked and mutually reinforcing. We believe that by ending plastic pollution, we can ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all. We believe that by achieving SDG 4, we can contribute to the realization of all the other Global Goals. We believe that our common agenda is to create a better future for ourselves and generations to come.

Thank you for your attention and support.

Published by:

