Part II: Description of Actions

Over the past few years, the International Peace Commission (IPC) has reaffirmed its commitment to improving the lives of communities, particularly across the African continent, by actively supporting the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and the Ten Principles of the United Nations Global Compact. This commitment remains a cornerstone of our mission as we continue to serve in nearly 37 countries, including those in Africa and Asia, through our dedicated volunteers and civil society organization members.

The IPC has consistently organized learning and dialogue events, workshops, and training sessions for our members, focusing on the UN Global Compact and topics relevant to corporate sustainability. Additionally, we have proposed and pursued partnership projects aimed at advancing corporate sustainability while providing humanitarian support to those in need, with the valuable assistance of the corporate sector.

Our efforts also include the organization of numerous workshops and seminars on critical humanitarian issues, including sustainable development, environmental stewardship, and human rights. Furthermore, the IPC actively works to attract new participants to the UN Global Compact through outreach initiatives and awareness-raising activities.

Through these actions, the IPC continues to uphold its mission of fostering global peace, sustainability, and human rights.
