Dear Mr. Secretary-General,

Vox Supply Chain is excited to formalize our support of the Global Compact and its ten governing principles. We are committed to engaging in initiatives to advance the goals of the United Nations under these principles as they relate to our portfolio of services and all relevant partnerships. The over-arching philosophy of the Global Compact is well aligned with our company values, strategy and founding principle. We look forward to laying a more formal foundation to govern the execution of our company services and work with the United Nations to further key global programs, including the Millennium Development Goals. This new partnership will be reviewed with our employees to ensure the Global Compacts principles and commitments are understood and embraced by all.

We also agree to report our work through an annual submission of a COP (Communication on Progress). Our first submission will be delivered within twelve months of initiating this partnership, and we are committed to ensuring full progress transparency. This document will highlight our ongoing initiatives and achievements under the ten governing principles. We will also look to share these initiatives with our partners to help generate awareness and promote the program, as we recognize the importance of utilizing all avenues to drive results.

Best regards,

Arnold Engel
Chief Executive Officer
