Dear Sir,

The Sudanese assembly of youth (SAY) foundation supports the ten principles of the UN Global Compact with respect to human rights, labor, environment and anti-corruption. With this commitment, we express our intent to support the Global Compact advancing these principles, and will make a clear statement of this commitment to our stakeholders and the general public.

We also pledge to participate in and engage with the UN Global Compact in the following way:

- Spreading positive youth development concept and principles which will lead to empowerment and development of the upcoming generations. To reach this goal SAY foundation applies 5 major techniques in all projects carried by the organization; those 5 techniques are:

{7 principles of Positive youth development, Conscious - Competence ladder, Bloom's taxonomy of Education, Soft skills development and sustainability} all of which goes hand in hand to serve the same purpose as the SDGs principles.
- Below are Some previous events carried by the organization, in which the 5 techniques and the SDGs principles are applied:
- Changing Attitude Project: aims to address issues that lie at the heart of the community; and to give youth the chance and confidence to have a say in the challenges they face and to make their life more successful by preparing them through CAP training package.

- Sustain it project: Represented in the following packages: sustain yourself, sustain your society, sustain your environment and sustain your economy. Aims to innovate and develop youth abilities to sustain them selves, community well-being and economy.
- SAY Academy: aims to empowers out of school youth to turn their passions and skills in to sustainable careers through SAY Academy modules, career guidance, mentoring, skills development and entrepreneurship training.
- LEAP (learn, earn and progress into success): aims to train the participants on the basics of NGOs management and social entrepreneurship skills by theoretical sessions, practical hours, assignments, filed trips and networking hours.

We recognize that a key requirement for participation in the Global Compact is the submission of a Communication on Engagement (COE) that describes our organization's efforts to support the implementation of the ten principles and to engage with the Global Compact. We support public accountability and transparency, and therefore commit to report on progress within two years of joining the Global Compact and every two years thereafter according to the Global Compact COE policy.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Torki H. Farhat
